Product Information

The following information is supplied as a guideline to ensure a lasting product.

Bamboo is a natural product and colour variations will occur not only within each slab but some slabs may be slightly darker than others. Logan Leigh will do everything possible to match the slabs therefore, please advise us when ordering if you intend joining two slabs together.

Also the layers of bamboo in the slabs can sometimes vary between 7 and 8.

Bare Sanded – also refer to the “Bare Sanded” price list.

Orders can be supplied to your required lengths and widths but may be supplied oversized. The top and underside of the bench tops are fine sanded with the edges and corners not rounded over. Edges may have a small amount of cracks and require some filling as small gaps in the bamboo are standard and not considered a fault. We recommend Timber Mate “Hardwood colour” water based wood filler available from selected paint stores.

Fabricated NOT polished – also refer to the “Fabricated Not Polished” price list.

Quality fabrication work can be done in our factory by our fully certified tradesmen. We can:

1. Cut or join (fabricate) the bamboo slabs to your exact plan and round over any edges or corners etc.
2. Fill any edge cracks and fine sand by hand the whole job.
3. Fabricate mitre or butt joints according to the plan which include biscuit dowels and bench top joining bolts with slots and holes included.
4. Additional fabrication work such as sink and hot plate cut outs, splashbacks, aprons, waterfall ends and any custom work can be quoted on.
5. 2-pack polyurethane or oil based products can then be applied by the customer according to the manufacturer’s recommendations.

Fabricated AND Polished – also refer to the “Fabricated and Polished” price list

Steps 1– 4 Include work done as above

5. Polishing of the bench tops by Logan Leigh is undertaken by fully qualified senior tradesmen using the best spray booths and equipment available. This results in a job of the highest quality that the customer will be truly proud of. The following two pack polyurethane finishes are available:

- a. Natural Grade – 15% Gloss - two coats all round (top, bottom and edges) for a more grain textured finish.
- b. Furniture Grade – 15% gloss or 30% gloss - three to four coats on the top surface for a glassy finish and two coats on the underside.

Please note it is critical for all sink and hot-plate cut outs etc including any edges that may be trimmed during installation be sealed with three coats of two-pack polyurethane. This should be applied by a paint brush to fully seal and protect the bench tops. Use of a spray can for this purpose does not fully seal the natural pores of the bamboo and may result in moisture loss or gain.

The bench tops are fully packaged and freight can be arranged to most areas in Australia.
